Media Report Gibson Dunn Adds ‘Firepower’ to Energy and Infrastructure Practice Group With Arrival of Gianluca Bacchiocchi

In the Media | October 5, 2026

The recent arrival of structured finance partner Gianluca Bacchiocchi in New York generated prominent media attention from leading legal and industry publications, highlighting the firm’s momentum in energy and infrastructure.

Latin Lawyer reported that Gibson Dunn “has added firepower to its energy and infrastructure offering in New York” with Gianluca joining as Co-Chair of the firm’s Structured Finance Practice Group. The article also quoted Gianluca describing the firm as “exceptionally well-positioned for where the infrastructure market is headed,” adding that “the opportunity to build on the breadth and strength of Gibson Dunn’s platform was incredibly compelling to me.”

Project Finance International noted the breadth of Gianluca’s financing experience, reporting that his practice spans “structured finance, private capital, insurance capital, bank lending and capital markets transactions.” The publication also noted his experience across infrastructure projects in the U.S. and globally, including Latin America.

The Lawyer quoted Tomer Pinkusiewicz, Co-Chair of the firm’s Energy and Infrastructure Practice Group, on what Gianluca’s experience brings to the firm: “Bringing that expertise together with our real estate, energy and infrastructure, and private capital teams gives clients even greater depth across both the asset and the financing.”
