Gibson Dunn Advises ExxonMobil on Redomestication to Texas

Firm News | March 10, 2026

Gibson Dunn is advising the Exxon Mobil Corporation on its redomestication to Texas. The company's Board of Directors has unanimously recommended that shareholders approve changing the company's legal domicile from New Jersey to Texas. The Board concluded that aligning ExxonMobil's legal domicile with where its leadership and core operations have been based since 1989 will benefit shareholders.

Our corporate team advising ExxonMobil includes partners Gerry Spedale, Ronald Mueller and Hillary Holmes; of counsel Robbie Hopkins; and associates Muriel Hague, Maggie Valachovic, and Thomas Franck.

Partners Tull Florey, Brian Lane, and Thomas Kim are advising on securities aspects. Partners Gregg Costa, Collin Cox, David Woodcock, and Colin Davis are advising on litigation aspects. Partner Pamela Lawrence Endreny, senior counsel Gregory Nelson, and associate Abram Dorrough are advising on tax aspects. Partner Krista Hanvey and of counsel John Curran are advising on benefits. Partner Shalla Prichard and associate Iris Hill Crabtree are advising on financing aspects.
