Jared S. Greenberg is an associate in the Denver office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. His practice focuses on commercial litigation, white collar defense, investigations, and aerospace. Jared is recognized in Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch® in America for Criminal Defense: White-Collar, Health Care Law, Government Relations and Commercial Litigation, and has been listed in the publication since 2021. He also received the 2017 Attorney of the Year award from the Public Law Center for his involvement in a successful federal jury trial.

Jared has experience with litigation matters related to technology, aerospace, entertainment, gaming, pharmaceuticals, meat packing, securities law, torts, contracts and civil rights. He also has experience representing technology, healthcare, education, oil and gas, and financial clients during investigations by the U.S. government, including the Department of Justice, Federal Trade Commission, and the Securities and Exchange Commission.

Jared has a strong pro bono practice and is committed to community involvement. He secured restraining orders on behalf of victims of domestic violence, and helped an individual obtain a half-million-dollar jury verdict for First and Eighth Amendment violations. Jared also co-founded a nonprofit organization to combat human trafficking, which helped hundreds of trafficking survivors and raised over $10 million. He has been featured on the Tyra Banks Show, Marie Claire magazine, and other notable publications for his pro bono activities.

Jared earned his law degree from Stanford Law, where he was named a Pro Bono Distinction Graduate. He was elected as a Student Law Association representative, served at the Stanford Community Law Clinic, received a Stanford Law fellowship, and received the Giles Rich Award from the Federal Circuit Bar Association.

Jared received his bachelor’s degree in Management from the United States Air Force Academy. The U.S. Air Force Academy awarded him with the Distinguished Management Major Award, and the Civil Air Patrol Award recognizing his academic achievements.

Prior to law school, Jared was an officer in the U.S. Air Force and a management consultant.

Jared currently lives in Monument, Colorado, with his wife and two young children. During his free time, he can be found at the Colorado Springs Zoo, feeding giraffes, with his family.

Jared is a member of the State Bar of Colorado and The State Bar of California.
