Asia Business Law Journal

Asia Business Law Journal has named Jamie Thomas to its 2024 Singapore A-List, which identifies the top 100 lawyers in Singapore based on an extensive survey of leading in-house counsel and partners at international law firms. The list was published on April 29, 2024. Jamie Thomas is a partner in the Singapore office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. He is a co-chair of the firm's Global Finance Practice Group and heads the banking, finance and restructuring practices in Gibson Dunn's Asian offices. Jamie advises on complex cross-border leveraged finance transactions, as well as fund financings including subscription-based, NAV and hybrid facilities, and regularly advises alternative capital providers on cross-border special situations financings and direct lending transactions. In addition, Jamie is the pre-eminent advisor to sponsors and companies across Asia on reserves-based and renewable energy financings for the energy and commodity sectors, as well as on their transition to lower carbon options. He also has significant experience in project finance, asset-backed financing, hedges and derivatives, as well as digital assets lending and various cutting-edge aspects of decentralised finance (DeFi). On the restructuring front, Jamie is the leading choice by debtors, companies and families when faced with bet-the-house restructuring situations, and also has extensive experience advising on creditor led debt restructurings (including complex out-of-court workouts and in-court restructurings) and the implementation of such strategies in Asia. His experience covers the Asia-Pacific region, including Indonesia, Singapore, Vietnam, China, India, Taiwan, Japan, Thailand, Philippines and Australia.
