GIBSON DUNN

Gibson Dunn Advised Nasdaq on Creation of Nasdaq Texas

Firm News | March 9, 2026

Gibson Dunn served as counsel to Nasdaq in the creation of Nasdaq Texas, the newest Texas-based national securities exchange. Our Houston-based team of partner Hillary Holmes and associates Muriel Hague and Anna Strong worked closely with Nasdaq in creating the Texas entity and setting up the stock exchange for its historic launch on March 5, 2026.

Nasdaq Texas is a dual-listing venue that expands Nasdaq's presence in the state by providing companies with the ability to list on an exchange formed under Texas law while maintaining access to Nasdaq's global platform, technology, and market infrastructure. It reflects Nasdaq's long-term investment in Texas and its commitment to supporting capital formation across the region.

Related Capabilities

Capital Markets

Related People

Hillary H. Holmes

Muriel Hague