

Gibson Dunn Advises HighPost Capital in the Sale of a Controlling Interest to Azimut Group

Firm News | May 8, 2025

Gibson Dunn is advising HighPost Capital, LLC in connection with the sale of a controlling interest to Azimut Group, via its U.S. subsidiary Azimut Alternative Capital Partners LLC. Founded by David Moross and Mark Bezos, HighPost Capital is a leading private investment firm focused on the consumer sector. Azimut Group is one of Europe's largest independent asset managers. The Gibson Dunn team is led by partners Shukie Grossman and Michael Piazza and includes partners Jesse Myers and Adam Whitehouse, of counsel Jason Park, and associates Hunter Michielson, Juliette Rafael, Philip Stachnik and Ashley Whittington. Partner Michael Cannon and associate Ryan Rott are advising on tax; partner Joshua Lipton, counsel Andrew Cline and associate Alexander Merritt are advising on antitrust; and partner Krista Hanvey and associate John Curran are advising on employee benefits.

Related People

Shukie Grossman

Michael Piazza

Jesse Myers

Adam Whitehouse

Jason S. Park

Hunter Michielson

Juliette N. Rafael

Philip Stachnik

Ashley Whittington

Michael Q. Cannon

Ryan Rott

Joshua Lipton

Alexander H. Merritt

Krista P. Hanvey

John Curran

Related Capabilities

Investment Funds

Private Equity

Tax

Antitrust and Competition

Executive Compensation and Employee Benefits