

Gibson Dunn Advises Technip Energies on $556 Million Acquisition of Ecovyst's Advanced Materials & Catalysts

Firm News | September 11, 2025

Gibson Dunn is advising Technip Energies on its $556 million acquisition of Ecovyst Inc.'s Advanced Materials & Catalysts business.

Our corporate team is led by partner Tull Florey and includes associates Ashley Whittington, Adri Langemeier, George Hang, Caroline Bakewell, and Nathan Halaney. Senior counsel Greg Nelson and associate Nathan Sauers are advising on tax; partners Krista Hanvey and associate John Curran are advising on benefits; partners Sophia Hansell and Attila Borsos are advising on antitrust; partner Chris Timura is advising on international trade; partner Daniel Angel and associate Andrew Hartman are advising on intellectual property and transition; and of counsel Richard Sen and associate Stefan Koller are advising on real estate.

Related People

Tull Florey

Ashley Whittington

George Hang

Caroline Bakewell

Nathan Halaney

Gregory V. Nelson

Krista P. Hanvey

John Curran

Sophia A. Hansell

Attila Borsos

Christopher T. Timura

Daniel Angel

Andrew Hartman

Richard B. Sen

Stefan Koller

Related Capabilities

Mergers and Acquisitions