Firm News | February 3, 2026

Gibson Dunn announced today that Nigel Gleeson, Jon Bowden, and Alice Boughton have joined the firm's Singapore office as partners in the Private Equity and M&A Practice Groups. Their arrival strengthens what is already a deep private equity offering in Asia, enhancing the firm's ability to deliver seamless, cross-border support to global financial sponsors.

The team brings extensive experience advising private equity firms, infrastructure and real-asset investors, sovereign-linked institutions, and corporates on significant transactions in the APAC region. Working closely with Gibson Dunn's private equity and M&A teams in Asia, the Middle East, Europe, and the U.S., they will advise clients from a range of sectors on complex investments and strategic transactions.

"Nigel, Jon, and Alice are outstanding lawyers whose arrival reflects our destination-practice strategy and commitment to assembling elite talent to our platform," said Barbara Becker, Chair and Managing Partner of Gibson Dunn. "Their experience advising sponsors and corporates on sophisticated, multinational M&A matters adds further depth to our Asia offering and enhances the firm's ability to support clients on their most important transactions."

"Gibson Dunn offers a deep bench of marquee private equity and M&A talent in the world's major financial centers, and that strength is a natural fit for our practice," said Nigel Gleeson. "Our sponsor clients increasingly look for seamless execution across multiple jurisdictions, and the firm's collaborative platform and sector depth—particularly in infrastructure and real assets—support that exceptionally well. We are excited to contribute to the firm's Asia and global offering."

Jon Bowden said: "It's fantastic to be part of Gibson Dunn's on-going growth in Asia. The firm's global and practice area expertise is going to enable us to deliver the best possible service to the firm's private capital and corporate clients."
