

Gibson Dunn Named D.C. Law Firm of the Year in IFLR1000 United States Awards 2021

Accolades | September 22, 2021

International Financial Law Review

International Financial Law Review named Gibson Dunn as the District of Columbia's Law Firm of the Year at its IFLR1000 United States Awards 2021. The awards celebrate the most innovative, complex and impactful domestic legal work undertaken in the United States in 2020, and the lawyers and law firms that led on it. The awards were announced on September 21, 2021.

Gibson Dunn's Washington, D.C. office has been a leader in the community for more than 35 years and provides a broad range of legal services, including cutting-edge transactional work. Our clients include leading U.S. and multinational corporations, many of which are Fortune 100 and 500 companies.