GIBSON DUNN

Gibson Dunn Partners Examine Texas's Emergence as Alternative to Traditional Corporate Jurisdictions

Article | April 3, 2026

Harvard Law School Forum on Corporate Governance

Writing about "Texas Corporate Developments: What Officers and Directors Need to Know " [PDF] in the Harvard Law School Forum on Corporate Governance, partners Hillary Holmes, Gerry Spedale, Gregg Costa and Ronald Mueller note that Texas has recently "attracted headline?making redomestications, launched multiple nationally significant stock exchanges, and expanded the reach and influence of the Texas Business Court" — developments that "reflect Texas's accelerating rise as a premier jurisdiction for corporate governance, capital formation, and high?stakes commercial dispute resolution" and that signal the state's emergence as an alternative to traditional corporate jurisdictions.

Associates Jack DiSorbo and Muriel Hague also contributed to the article.

Related People

Hillary H. Holmes

Gerry Spedale

Gregg J. Costa

Ronald O. Mueller

Jack B. DiSorbo

Muriel Hague

Related Capabilities

Capital Markets

Litigation

Mergers and Acquisitions

Securities Regulation and Corporate Governance

© 2026 Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher LLP. All rights reserved. For contact and other information, please visit us at www.gibsondunn.com. | www.gibsondunn.com