

Gibson Dunn Advised True Wind Capital in Recapitalization of AIA Contract Documents

Firm News | September 19, 2025

Gibson Dunn advised True Wind Capital in the recapitalization of AIA Contract Documents alongside Welsh, Carson, Anderson & Stowe. The investment aims to support AIA's continued digital innovation and further strengthen its leadership in providing contract and risk management solutions to the architecture, engineering, and construction (AEC) industry. Our corporate team was led by partners Abtin Jalali and Matthew Schwartz and included associates Andrew Abell, Chris Ayers, and Sam Harris. Partner Cromwell Montgomery and associate Nicole S. Kim advised on finance; partner Michael Q. Cannon and associates Ryan Rott and Austin T. Morris advised on tax; partner Sean Feller and associate Lucy Hong advised on benefits; partner Daniel Angel and associate Jacqueline E. Malzone advised on IP; partner Cassandra Gaedt-Sheckter and associate Ruby B. Lang advised on data privacy; and partner Joshua Lipton and Alexander H. Merritt advised on antitrust aspects.

Related People

Abtin Jalali

Andrew Abell

Chris Ayers

Sam Harris

Cromwell Montgomery

Nicole S. Kim

Michael Q. Cannon

Ryan Rott

Austin T Morris

Sean C. Feller

Lucy Hong

Daniel Angel

Jacqueline E. Malzone

Cassandra L. Gaedt-Sheckter

Joshua Lipton

Alexander H. Merritt

Related Capabilities

Private Equity

Finance

Tax

Executive Compensation and Employee Benefits

Intellectual Property

Privacy, Cybersecurity, and Data Innovation

GIBSON DUNN

Antitrust and Competition