

Global Competition Review Recognizes Gibson Dunn for Two Matters of the Year

Accolades | November 10, 2020

Global Competition Review

At its annual GCR Awards, Global Competition Review named T-Mobile's $26 billion acquisition of Sprint the "Matter of the Year," in which Gibson Dunn was counsel to T-Mobile's parent company Deutsche Telekom, and the US v Heritage Pharmaceuticals matter as the "Behavioural Matter of the Year in the Americas," in which Gibson Dunn was counsel to Heritage Pharmaceuticals. The awards were presented on November 10, 2020.

Gibson Dunn's Antitrust and Competition Practice Group serves clients in a broad array of industries globally in every significant area of antitrust and competition law, including private antitrust litigation between large companies and class action treble damages litigation; government review of mergers and acquisitions; and cartel investigations, internationally across borders and jurisdictions.

Related Capabilities

Antitrust and Competition

Trials