

Hagen Rooke Comments on MAS Crypto Regulations in The Financial Times

In the Media | June 26, 2025

Financial Times

Partner Hagen Rooke has told the Financial Times (subscription required) that the Monetary Authority of Singapore's (MAS) new regulations requiring local crypto firms serving overseas markets to cease operations represent a move to "clean up shop" and "plug gaps in its framework."

Hagen said that the MAS is "de facto shutting down the industry that was operating on the fringes of the existing framework."

Related People

Hagen H. Rooke

Related Capabilities

Fintech and Digital Assets