Jessica Valenzuela Recognized in Litigator of the Week Shout Out

Accolades | March 6, 2024

The AmLaw Litigation Daily

The AmLaw Litigation Daily recognized Palo Alto partner Jessica Valenzuela amongst its Litigator of the Week shout outs for her win for Baker Hughes in securities litigation claiming that artificial intelligence software company C3.ai Inc. misled investors about its reseller agreement with the oil field services company. The Gibson Dunn team includes San Francisco associate George Adams and Palo Alto associate Hazel Verdin. The recognition was published on March 1, 2024. Jessica Valenzuela's practice focuses on securities, corporate governance and other complex business litigation, including the defense of securities class actions, derivative suits and M&A-related class actions. In addition to representing clients in state and federal courts, she also represents companies, boards and special committees in government and internal investigations and counsels public and private companies and their directors and officers about a wide range of issues relating to corporate governance, insider trading, disclosure obligations, director and executive compensation matters and litigation risk and strategy.
