

Karin Portlock Named to The National Black Lawyers Top 100 for 2025

Accolades | July 10, 2025

The National Black Lawyers

For the third consecutive year, partner Karin Portlock has been named to The National Black Lawyers Top 100, a list of “the most successful and influential lawyers with reputations for providing excellent legal representation in their respective practice areas.” The National Black Lawyers is an invitation-only professional development and networking association composed of the top African American lawyers from across the country. A former federal prosecutor, Karin has a broad-based government enforcement and investigations practice, ranging from government and internal corporate investigations to criminal defense and regulatory enforcement litigation through trial. She regularly represents individuals and companies under criminal investigation and indictment by the U.S. Department of Justice as well as in civil probes by federal regulators and major litigation by state Attorneys General.

Related People

Karin Portlock