Karin Portlock Named to The National Black Lawyers Top 100 for 2026

Accolades | July 13, 2026

Partner Karin Portlock has been named to The National Black Lawyers Top 100 for the fourth consecutive year. The list recognizes “highly successful and influential lawyers with reputations for providing excellent legal representation in their respective practice areas.”

A former federal prosecutor, Karin has a broad-based government enforcement and investigations practice, ranging from government and internal corporate investigations to criminal defense and regulatory enforcement litigation through trial. She regularly represents individuals and companies under criminal investigation and indictment by the U.S. Department of Justice as well as in civil probes by federal regulators and major litigation by state Attorneys General.
