Law360

Law360 named four Gibson Dunn partners among its 2025 MVPs. The Law360 MVP awards feature lawyers who have “distinguished themselves from their peers by securing significant achievements in high-stakes litigation, complex global matters and record-breaking deals.”

Gibson Dunn’s MVPs are:

- Andrew Fabens, a Capital Markets MVP – Andrew serves as Co-Chair of our Capital Markets Practice Group. He advises companies on long-term and strategic capital planning, disclosure and reporting obligations under U.S. federal securities laws, corporate governance issues, and stock exchange listing obligations.
- Allyson Ho, an Appellate MVP – Allyson is Co-Chair of our Appellate and Constitutional Law Practice Group. She has presented over 100 oral arguments in federal and state courts nationwide, including six high-stakes business cases before the U.S. Supreme Court.
- Brian Rosenthal, an Intellectual Property MVP – Brian is a trial lawyer with a particular emphasis on patent litigation. His patent litigation practice has spanned a wide range of technologies, with a concentration on computer software, electronics, and medical devices.
- Jason Schwartz, an Employment MVP – Jason is Co-Chair of our Labor and Employment Practice Group. His practice includes sensitive workplace investigations, high-profile trade secret and non-compete matters, wage-hour and discrimination class actions, Sarbanes-Oxley and other whistleblower protection claims, executive and other significant employment disputes, labor union controversies, and workplace safety litigation.
