Darko Adamovic is a partner in the Paris office of Gibson Dunn where he heads the Energy & Infrastructure Practice Group.

Based in Paris, the Energy & Infrastructure team, led by Darko, comprises three partners, one of counsel and five associates and advises on French and English law. Darko and his team specialise in assets in the energy and infrastructure sectors. They advise investment and infrastructure funds, industrialists, developers, junior and senior lenders and multilateral institutions on greenfield and brownfield projects in France, Europe and Africa. They advise on development, corporate, finance and M&A aspects, combining their legal, financial, contractual and asset knowledge. Darko and his team have advised on the full range of assets, including telecoms (concessions, private networks, IRUs, data centres, towers), transport (railways, airports, roads, ports), energy and energy transition (renewables, conventional, LNG, nuclear, hydrogen, biomass, geothermal, hydro, district heating, battery storage), electric mobility (electric vehicle charging networks, batteries), defence and social (hospitals, stadiums, military infrastructure, schools) and assets (trains, buses, aircraft, ships).

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Darko was a partner in the energy & infrastructure group of a Magic Circle law firm in Paris.

Admitted to the Paris Bar, Darko holds a master's degree in banking, finance and business law from the University of Paris II Panthéon-Assas. Darko was one of the authors of the French chapter of the international edition of The Projects and Construction Review.

He is fluent in French, English and Serbo-Croatian.
