Najla S. Al-Gadi is a partner in the Riyadh office of Gibson Dunn and is member of the firm's Capital Markets practice group. Najla constantly advises clients on complex capital markets matters across a broad range of industries.

With dual qualifications in New York and the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, Najla brings deep transactional expertise in the KSA market to counsel issuers, investment banks, boards of directors, and capital markets institutions across a wide spectrum of capital markets transactions. Her practice spans initial public offerings (IPOs), secondary equity offerings, and other securities issuances, alongside public company representation, mergers and acquisitions, and corporate governance and securities law matters.

Najla has represented clients across a diverse range of sectors, including oil and gas, information technology, telecommunications, manufacturing, healthcare, real estate, and financial services. She also advises clients on pre-IPO corporate restructuring and readiness, as well as corporate governance matters within Saudi Arabia.
