Amanda Bevan-de Bernède is a partner in the Paris office of Gibson Dunn, where she serves as the Partner in Charge of the office and a member of the firm's Finance Practice Group.

Amanda specializes in structured finance transactions, in particular in the context of LBO transactions and complex cross-border debt restructuring transactions.

She seamlessly represents senior and junior lenders, financial sponsors, borrowers, and distressed investors in their significant strategic transactions. Amanda is experienced in acquisition finance (whether using all-senior, senior, second lien, unitranche, mezzanine or PIK financing), advising lenders, borrowers and sponsors on leveraged buy-outs, build-ups, and corporate acquisitions. She also has experience in acting for lenders and borrowers in relation to investment-grade syndicated facilities, other corporate loans, and bridge financing. Amanda has acted on some of the largest French acquisition finance transactions over the last decade, but also on many of the most complex debt restructuring transactions completed in France over recent years, advising clients within a cross-practice team of lawyers combining excellent restructuring expertise with thorough technical knowledge of finance transactions.

*The Legal 500 EMEA r*anks her as a leading partner for Banking & Finance: Transactional Work and recommends her work in its Insolvency category (Band 1), noting that she is a Key N ame within the practice.

Best Lawyers in France consistently recommends her for Banking and Finance Law, Insolvency and Reorganization Law, as well as Investment.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn in 2017, Amanda practiced in a leading British law firm's Paris corporate and banking departments, before joining another leading British law firm's finance department in 2003.

Admitted to the Paris Bar since 1998, Amanda graduated from University of Paris I (Panthéon-Sorbonne) with a DEA (master's degree) in private international law and international commercial law, and received a Magistère (postgraduate degree) in private and public economic law in 1997.

She speaks English and French fluently.
