Alex Bluett is a partner in the Paris office of Gibson Dunn and a member of the firm's Energy & Infrastructure Practice Group.

As a dual-qualified lawyer (English and French law), Alex advises French and international clients on the development, structuring, and financing of large-scale energy and infrastructure transactions across a number of sectors including telecoms, roads, airports, energy transition, and renewables. He has experience in project, acquisition and corporate financings (including loans, bonds and hybrid financings), and M&A transactions across Europe, Africa, the Middle East, and Latin America.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Alex worked for over a decade in the energy & infrastructure group of a Magic Circle law firm in their Paris and London offices.

Admitted to the Paris Bar and a Solicitor of the Senior Courts of England and Wales, Alex holds a Master's degree in Law from the University of Cambridge.

Alex speaks English and French fluently.
