Daniel Boden is an English-qualified associate in the London office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. He is a member of the firm's Litigation and International Arbitration Groups.

Daniel has broad experience of complex commercial litigation, international arbitration and regulatory and internal investigations, often with a transnational element. Most recently this has included:

- Representing a UK retailer in the largest private sector mass equal pay claim to be heard in the English courts.
- Representing U.S. investors in a large-scale precious metals mining project in a former Soviet Union country in High Court proceedings related to parallel investor-state and commercial arbitration claims.
- Representing ultra-high net worth individuals in a succession dispute involving a global estate valued in the multiple billions of dollars.
- Representing a major investment bank in High Court proceedings regarding antitrust violations relating to LIBOR manipulation.
- Representing LIV Golf and a number of players in high-profile disciplinary appeals proceedings against the PGA European Tour.
- Defending an Indian wealth and asset management company in respect of claims brought in the Commercial Court alleging fraudulent misrepresentation, deceit and intimidation.

Daniel also works on ESG and human rights issues and has experience in the financial services, retail and sports sectors. He also maintains an active pro bono practice.

Daniel trained at Gibson Dunn and holds a first class honours degree in Hispanic Studies with a distinction in spoken Spanish from the University of Nottingham.
