Jun An Chee is an Associate Attorney in the Singapore office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and a member of the firm's Finance and Derivatives Practice Groups.

Jun An advises sponsors, borrowers, lenders, and investment funds on complex cross-border financing transactions. His experience includes acquisition financings; fund financings, including subscription line, hybrid, GP, and capital call facilities; reserve-based and prepayment financings; and other secured financing arrangements. He has acted on transactions involving the energy, commodities, private equity, and digital-assets sectors.

Jun An also advises private equity, credit, and hedge funds and corporates on structured products and over-the-counter derivatives, including credit default swaps, equity derivatives, interest rate and foreign exchange derivatives, and securities lending transactions. His experience includes both standalone trading arrangements and hedging transactions entered into in connection with financing facilities.

He further advises clients in the digital-assets sector on transactional matters, including the terms governing margin, portfolio margin, and futures products, as well as documentation for digital assets-linked financings.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Jun An was an associate with a leading Singapore law firm.

He received his Bachelor of Laws with Honors from the National University of Singapore in 2019 and is an Advocate and Solicitor of the Supreme Court of Singapore.
