Jeremy Chiang is an associate in the Los Angeles office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and a member of the firm's Real Estate Practice Group. He focuses his practice on commercial real estate transactions, including joint ventures, acquisitions, dispositions, and financings of real estate assets across the United States.

Jeremy represents private equity funds, commercial banks, real estate investment trusts, and other institutional capital sources in connection with sophisticated real estate transactions. He was recognized in Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch in America in Real Estate Law in 2026-2027. Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, he served as an in-house attorney at the business-purpose lending arm of a NYSE-listed specialty finance company, advising senior executives and stakeholders.

Jeremy earned his Juris Doctor and Certificate in Business Law from the University of Southern California Gould School of Law, where he was a Merit Scholar and a staff member of the Southern California Interdisciplinary Law Journal. He received his Bachelor of Arts, cum laude, in psychology from the University of California, Irvine.

He is a member of the State Bar of California and admitted to practice in California.
