

Jun Qi Chin

Associate Attorney

jqchin@gibsondunn.com

T: +65 6507 3622

Singapore

Jun Qi Chin is an associate in the Singapore office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. She is a member of the firm's Financial Regulatory Practice Group. She is currently on secondment.

Jun Qi regularly advises global and local financial institutions and corporates on their financial regulatory and related compliance issues, such as in connection with the expansion of their businesses into Singapore or the introduction of new products and services. She has extensive experience advising banks, fund managers, exchanges, brokerages and payment service providers on a broad range of financial regulatory matters, including licensing and other regulatory engagement processes, conduct and governance obligations and regulatory change projects.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Jun Qi was a regulatory lawyer at an international law firm and was also an in-house counsel at a U.S.-headquartered multinational payment card services corporation, where she advised stakeholders on the launch and deployment of various payment products and services, and on the application of regulatory requirements across the Asia-Pacific region.

Jun Qi is recognized as a Leading Associate for Fintech and Financial Services Regulatory by The Legal 500 Asia Pacific.

She received her Bachelor of Laws from the National University of Singapore in 2013. Jun Qi is admitted to practice in Singapore. She is fluent in English and Mandarin.

Capabilities

Financial Institutions
Finance
Financial Regulatory
Fintech and Digital Assets
Securities Regulation and Corporate Governance

Credentials

Education

National University of Singapore - 2013
Bachelor of Laws (LL.B.)

Admissions

Singapore – Advocate and Solicitor