Washington, D.C.

Carlo Felizardo is of counsel in the Washington, DC office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. He is a member of the firm's FDA and Health Care practice.

Carlo has extensive experience advising companies involved in the development, manufacturing, marketing, and distribution of U.S. Food and Drug Administration (FDA)-regulated products. He assists clients in interpreting, implementing, and ensuring compliance with FDA requirements across a wide array of product classes, including drugs, medical devices, and biological products.

Carlo also works with various entities involved in life sciences transactions to understand and mitigate potential regulatory risks. He has extensive experience in conducting FDA regulatory due diligence and drafting key disclosure and transactional language.

Carlo earned his law degree, cum laude, in 2016 from Northwestern University. He received his bachelor's degree with high honors in political science and sociology and anthropology from Swarthmore College in 2011, and his master's degree in sociology from Northwestern University in 2013.

Carlo is admitted to practice in Illinois and the District of Columbia.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Carlo was an associate in the FDA practice at another global firm.
