Zachary Freund is a litigation associate in Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher's Los Angeles office. His practice focuses on complex civil litigation in both appellate and trial courts. Zach has represented clients in a variety of high-stakes, complex litigation matters in state and federal courts, and his expertise touches on areas as varied as First Amendment law, sports law, insurance law, data privacy law, and environmental law.

Highlights include:

- Securing a jury verdict win for Nike in an endorsement contract dispute with NFL wide receiver Odell Beckham, Jr. Following the jury's complete defense verdict in favor of Nike, AmLaw Litigation Daily recognized the Gibson Dunn team as "Litigators of the Week."
- Obtaining dismissals of multiple lawsuits challenging San Diego Gas & Electric Co.'s franchise agreements with the City of San Diego, including a summary judgment victory that The Daily Journal named as one of the Top Defense Verdicts of 2022.
- Persuading the Ninth Circuit to reverse a district court ruling and overturn agency action by the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service on the grounds that it was "arbitrary and capricious" and in violation of the Endangered Species Act, in a major precedential administrative law decision.
- Persuading the Ninth Circuit to affirm an eight-figure arbitration award on behalf of an international real-estate developer, in a long-running venture capital dispute.
- Representing U.S. Olympic gymnast Jordan Chiles in her quest to reclaim the bronze medal that was wrongfully stripped from her following the 2024 Paris Olympic Games, including an appeal in the Swiss Federal Supreme Court.
- Defending Nike against tort and contract claims brought by a former elite professional athlete.
- Representing a leading publishing company in a class action concerning royalty payments for electronic works.
- Representing clients in the insurance, engineering, technology, energy, and media sectors, among others, in appeals in federal and state appellate courts across the country.

Zach also maintains an active pro bono practice, including impact litigation stemming from the separation of families along the U.S. southern border and appellate litigation defending media and news organizations' First Amendment freedoms.

Zach joined Gibson Dunn after serving as a law clerk to the Honorable Gerard E. Lynch of the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit and the Honorable Nicholas G. Garaufis of the United States District Court for the Eastern District of New York. He
