Nigel Gleeson is a partner in the Singapore office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. He is a member of the firm's Corporate, Mergers and Acquisitions, and Private Equity Practice Groups. His practice focuses on mergers and acquisitions and private capital investments for financial sponsors, including private equity houses, pension / infrastructure funds, and sovereign linked investors across sectors and the APAC region. Nigel has a depth of expertise and experience advising financial sponsors on their most complex infrastructure and real asset investments.

Nigel is consistently ranked as a leading lawyer by Chambers and Partners and Legal 500 for Corporate/M&A in – Singapore and across Southeast Asia / APAC. Clients describe him as “a very strategic partner – he knows when and how to support clients in need” and “very dedicated and commercially minded in his approach.”

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Nigel led the Southeast Asia M&A practice of an international firm working in Singapore, London, and New York. He has been based in Singapore since 2012.

Nigel received his Bachelor of Laws and Commerce from the University of Auckland in 2001. He is admitted to practice in New Zealand and England and Wales.

Nigel's recent experience includes advising:*

- Blackstone on a number of transactions across APAC, including the S$1.2 billion sale of a portfolio of industrial real estate assets to a Warburg Pincus and Lendlease joint venture platform.
- A KKR led consortium (along with Singtel) on their US$2.2 billion investment into STT GDC, the global data center business.
- KKR on its S$1.1 billion investment in Nxera, Singtel's regional data center business valued at S$5.5 billion.
- TPG (through The Rise Fund) and the Hong Leong Group on their US$300 million acquisition of International Medical University (IMU), the Malaysian medical education business (including a university and teaching hospital) from IHH Healthcare Berhad.
