Dorothée Griveaux is a partner in the Paris office of Gibson Dunn and a member of the firm's Energy & Infrastructure Practice Group dedicated to public law and regulatory matters, including French FDI.

Dorothée advises on all aspects of public law matters. Her practice focuses on complex public contracts (concessions, public procurement, public-private partnerships) for public infrastructure projects (highways, rail, metro, telecommunications) and public facilities (universities, stadiums, hospitals, prisons, administrative facilities). She advises public entities, sponsors (investment funds, industrial companies), and lenders on large-scale projects.

Dorothée regularly advises on regulated and controlled activities, particularly in the energy, transport and telecommunications sectors.

Her practice covers both advice and litigation.

Dorothée is currently ranked for Public Law in Chambers France 2026. She is also referenced in The Legal 500 EMEA as a Leading Partner in Administrative and Public Law.

Before joining Gibson Dunn, Dorothée was a partner at a prominent international law firm in Paris.

Admitted to the Paris Bar, Dorothée received a Master's degree from Institut d'Etudes Politiques de Paris (Sciences Po). She then received a DESS in Public Economic Law from University of Paris II Pantheon-Assas and an LL.M. from Paris Bar School.

She speaks French and English fluently.
