Hermine Hubert is an associate in the Paris office of Gibson Dunn and a member of the firm's Technology Transactions & Privacy, Cybersecurity and Data Innovation Practice Groups.

Hermine focuses on information technology & digital transactions, outsourcing, data privacy, and cybersecurity. She assists a wide range of clients active in luxury, technology, life sciences, defense, automotive, and e-commerce sectors in data privacy, data protection law, and GDPR compliance programs.

She also advises on strategic digital-related projects (Artificial Intelligence, NFTs, Metaverse, Big Data, Cloud-based solutions, Internet of Things, e-commerce or IaaS/PaaS), and key EU digital laws and policies including the Artificial Intelligence Act and the Digital Services Act (DSA). Hermine also regularly works on privacy litigation matters before the CNIL, the French data protection authority. She has developed specific expertise in the field of space and electronic communications law.

Admitted to the Paris Bar in 2023, Hermine graduated with a Master's degree in Space and Telecommunications Law from University Paris-Saclay.

She speaks French and English fluently.
