New York

Rachel N. Jackson is an Associate in the New York office of Gibson Dunn. Rachel regularly represents and advises companies and executives facing internal investigations, regulatory and criminal investigations, government enforcement actions, and civil litigation. She has experience across a range of industries, with a particular focus on banks, financial services, digital assets, and technology companies. Rachel's practice also includes assessing and advising clients regarding anti-money laundering and other financial regulatory risks and compliance matters.

Rachel has been recognized by Best Lawyers: Ones to Watch® in America in the area of Criminal Defense: White-Collar.

She received her Juris Doctor magna cum laude from Georgetown University Law Center in 2018. At Georgetown, she served as the Executive Notes Editor for The Tax Lawyer and worked as a research assistant on topics related to tax and charitable giving, financial regulation, and sovereign debt. Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Rachel completed a clerkship in the United States District Court for the Western District of Missouri. Before law school, she studied economics and statistics at Smith College and worked as a business analyst.

Rachel is admitted to practice law in the State of New York.
