Denver

Alexandra Joseph is an associate in the Denver office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and works with the Los Angeles office and the Firm's Real Estate Practice Group.

Alex represents borrowers, lenders, private equity funds, REITs, real estate investors, developers and operators in all areas of real estate. Alex has a broad range of experience in all types of real estate matters, including negotiating and structuring real estate acquisitions, dispositions, joint ventures, developments, financings and commercial leasing involving all commercial real estate asset classes, including office, multifamily, hotel/hospitality, vacant land, industrial, mixed-use buildings, retail and shopping centers. Alex also works closely with the Real Estate Disputes Group to negotiate and settle contractual real estate disputes before they ripen into litigation.

Alex earned her Juris Doctor from UCLA School of Law. While in law school, Alex served as a Senior Editor of the UCLA Law Review and as a writing advisor for first year law students. Prior to law school, she graduated magna cum laude from University of California, San Diego with a Bachelor of Arts degree in History.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Alex practiced as a corporate associate at Simpson Thacher & Bartlett in Los Angeles. She is admitted to practice law in California and Colorado.
