Paris

Fadéla Kaïlech is an associate in the Paris office of Gibson Dunn, where she serves as a member of the firm's Labor and Employment Practice Group.

She advises French and international companies on all strategic aspects of French employment law, including redundancies, termination procedures, works council and staff representation, harassment allegations, day-to-day HR issues and the employment aspects of mergers, acquisitions, business transfers and reorganizations.

She also handles employment litigation and negotiates executive departures.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Fadéla Kaïlech practiced several years within the Employment & Benefits practice of a leading American law firm in Paris.

Admitted to the Paris bar in 2022, she graduated from University Paris II – Panthéon Assas with a master's degree in Labor law.

She speaks French and English fluently.
