Anastasia Katsari is an associate in the Brussels office of Gibson Dunn and a member of the firm's Antitrust and Competition Practice Group.

Anastasia's practice encompasses all areas of competition law and focuses particularly on merger control, vertical and horizontal arrangements and State aid. She advises global and European clients from a variety of industries, including healthcare, digital, energy, consumer products and chemicals in connection with their most sensitive matters.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn in 2022, Anastasia practiced corporate law as well as litigation at a reputed Greek law firm, before joining DG COMP as a Bluebook Trainee and working for EU agencies.

A member of the Thessaloniki Bar and a registered European lawyer at the Brussels Bar, Anastasia graduated with a Master of Laws (with distinction) in European Competition Law & Regulation from the University of Amsterdam in 2019. She received her law degree from the Aristotle University of Thessaloniki in 2015, having completed her Erasmus studies at the Universität Hamburg.

Anastasia is a native Greek speaker. She is also fluent in English and proficient in German.
