Lauren Konrai-Mori is an associate in the New York office of Gibson Dunn. She is a member of the firm's Technology Transactions Practice Group.

Lauren advises clients on a range of complex corporate and commercial transactions, including technology transactions and the intellectual property aspects of mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, and venture capital and private equity investments. Her experience includes the development, acquisition, and licensing of intellectual property and technology, and she regularly evaluates the intellectual property and technology issues that arise in general corporate transactions.

Lauren maintains an active pro bono practice, including representing non-profit organizations on intellectual property and licensing matters. She has also served as Co-Counsel with Tahirih Justice Center where she represented clients in immigration matters.

Lauren earned her law degree in 2020 from Golden Gate University School of Law, where she graduated summa cum laude and as valedictorian of her class. During law school, she served as Managing Editor of the Environmental Law Journal. Lauren received her Bachelor of Arts degree in English, with a concentration in literature, from San Francisco State University in 2017.

Lauren is a graduate of the 2025 National Ladder Down Program for Women Lawyers, a year-long leadership and business development program for women attorneys. She was an active member of the International Trademark Association and Earl Warren Inn of Court for several years.

Lauren is admitted to practice in New York, California, and Ohio.
