New York

Andrew V. Kuntz is a litigation associate in the New York office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and a member of the firm's Litigation, Class Actions, Securities Litigation Practice, and Privacy, Cybersecurity, and Data Innovation Groups.

Andrew maintains a diverse civil litigation practice, representing clients in complex commercial and securities litigation, as well as private and regulatory consumer protection matters. He has experience in every phase of a dispute, from initial investigation through trial and appeal, in federal and state courts across the country. Andrew's experience includes representing leading and emerging technology, energy, healthcare, and pharmaceutical companies.

Select Representative Matters:

- Represented Meta in a series of putative class actions, government enforcement actions, and shareholder derivative litigation relating to data privacy issues arising out of the Cambridge Analytica events.
- Represented Prosus N.V.'s edtech investment subsidiary in obtaining a rare pleading-stage dismissal of entire fairness claims filed in the Delaware Court of Chancery regarding Skillsoft Corp.'s allegedly conflicted acquisition of Codecademy.
- Achieved a favorable settlement for Esperion Therapeutics, successfully resolving a pharmaceutical licensing dispute in the Southern District of New York.

Andrew served as a law clerk to the Honorable Victor Marrero of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York.

Andrew graduated as a James Kent Scholar from Columbia Law School, where he served as Executive Production Editor on the Columbia Human Rights Law Review and a Teaching Assistant to the Honorable Jed S. Rakoff.

Prior to law school, Andrew served as an AmeriCorps Legal Assistant at a non-profit legal service provider in Rochester, New York. Andrew graduated from the State University of New York at Geneseo with a Bachelor of Arts in International Relations.

Andrew is admitted to practice in the State of New York.
