New York

Megan Meagher is a senior litigation associate in the New York office of Gibson Dunn. She is a member of the firm's Litigation, White Collar Defense and Investigations, and Law Firm Defense Practice Groups.

Megan's practice includes representing clients involved in both internal and government investigations, including those conducted by the U.S. Department of Justice and other enforcement agencies. She also has experience representing corporate and individual clients in high-stakes, complex commercial litigation before state and federal courts. Additionally, Megan regularly advises clients in connection with commercial real estate disputes.

Megan maintains an active pro bono practice, focused on assisting individuals navigating the criminal justice system within the Southern and Eastern Districts of New York.

She received her Juris Doctor, cum laude, in 2018 from Georgetown University Law Center. While at Georgetown, she held the position of Managing Editor for the Annual Survey of White Collar Crime, worked as a student attorney in Georgetown's Domestic Violence Clinic, and served as a Legal Research and Writing Fellow. She received a Bachelor of Science from Wake Forest University in 2010.

Megan is admitted to practice in the State of New York and before the U.S. District Court for the Southern District of New York.
