Hong Kong

Su Y. Moon is a Registered Foreign Lawyer (Washington, D.C.) and an associate in Hong Kong. She is a member of the firm's Litigation Practice Group, and her practice focuses on White Collar Defense and Investigations, as well as International Arbitration, with a particular emphasis on complex, multi-jurisdictional disputes across Asia and beyond. She is currently on secondment.

Su has advised global corporations, private equity firms, and financial institutions on high-stakes matters involving anti-corruption, anti-money laundering, sanctions, and fraud. Her experience spans internal investigations, compliance assessments, and acquisition due diligence, often in connection with regulatory inquiries or M&A. She regularly conducts interviews and document reviews in both English and Korean, and her work frequently involves navigating legal frameworks across multiple jurisdictions.

In arbitration, Su has represented clients in proceedings under ICC, ICDR, LCIA, HKIAC, and ICSID rules, including emergency arbitrations and multi-billion-dollar commercial disputes. Her cases have involved industries ranging from shipbuilding and automotive to insurance and consumer goods. She also has experience supporting arbitral tribunals as a Tribunal Secretary.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Su practiced at a global international disputes law firm, where she focused on cross-border U.S. litigation and international arbitration. She has been involved in landmark cases, including expedited litigation in the Delaware Chancery Court and arbitrations seated in London, Hong Kong, and Seoul.

Su earned her Bachelor of Arts from the University of California, Berkeley, and her Master of Laws from Handong International Law School, where she graduated cum laude. Su has been a Registered Foreign Lawyer in Hong Kong since 2018. She is fluent in English and Korean.
