Michael De Voe Piazza is a partner in Gibson Dunn's Houston office, and serves as Co-Head of both the U.S. Private Equity Practice and GP Solutions Practice. Michael focuses his private equity practice on mergers, acquisitions, dispositions, joint ventures and equity and debt offerings, including control, minority and preferred investments and structured equity and asset-level investments and financings. He regularly represents clients in the financial, oil and gas, energy transition and power sectors. Michael has significant experience advising private equity funds and other financial sponsors in "GP stakes" transactions, seeding arrangements, asset management M&A, leveraged buyouts, portfolio company investments and fund formation projects. He also has developed expertise in transactions involving the wealth management industry, the mineral and royalty business, the renewable fuels business, volumetric production payments and "DrillCo" structures.

Michael is a nationally ranked attorney with deep expertise in his field. Clients have commented "Michael is very business-oriented, has a strong pulse on the market, and is able to take complex issues and questions and put them in digestible formats," (Chambers 2025). In 2025, Michael was recognized as the leading M&A deal lawyer by deal count in the State of Texas and Michael was also recognized as Energy & Industrials Dealmaker of the Year at The Deal's Middle Market Awards in 2020. In 2015, he was one of only seven lawyers under the age of 40 to be named a "Rising Star" by Law360 in the area of Energy. It was his third consecutive "Rising Star" honor. In 2013, Michael was also named a "Legal Leader on the Rise" by Texas Lawyer.

Chambers Global (2025) ranks Michael among the leading individuals practicing in the areas of Energy: Oil & Gas (Transactional) in the United States and Chambers USA (2025) ranks Michael in the areas of Energy: Oil & Gas (Transactional) for Nationwide, and Private Equity: Buyouts and Corporate/M&A in Texas. One client emphasized Michael's "deep understanding of the private equity industry" and "impeccable client service" and remarked: "His attention to detail, commercial awareness and ability to manage nuanced processes are extremely valuable to our business."

Before joining Gibson Dunn, Michael was a partner at an international law firm, where he served as Co-Head of the firm's Energy practice and Co-Managing Partner of its Houston office.

Michael graduated from Georgetown University Law Center, cum laude, in 2008 and received his undergraduate degree from Princeton University, magna cum laude, in 2001.
