Felicia L. Reyes is a litigation associate at Gibson Dunn's New York office and practices in the firm’s Litigation Department.

Felicia earned her Juris Doctor from Columbia Law School in 2024, where she received the Harlan Fiske Stone and James Kent Scholar recognitions. During her tenure at Columbia, Felicia was a staff editor for the Columbia Law Review and served on its Development Committee. She gained valuable experience as a summer judicial intern with the Second Circuit Court of Appeals and as a legal extern for the Bronx Defenders. Additionally, Felicia was a member of the Latino Law Students Association and First Generation Professionals.

Felicia holds a Bachelor of Arts degree from the University of Southern California, graduating magna cum laude in 2017 and as a member of Phi Beta Kappa. Prior to attending law school, Felicia taught English in Mexico through the Fulbright program and worked on advocacy efforts for system-impacted youth.

Felicia is admitted to practice law in New York.
