London

Molly Russell is an Associate in the London office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. She specialises in regulatory and contentious technology law. She has experience advising leading technology companies on UK and EU frameworks including the Online Safety Act, Digital Markets Act and Digital Services Act, along with related enforcement, investigations and litigation. Molly also advises on artificial intelligence, from jurisdictional risks in training data to platform speech and defamation.

Molly brings a practical perspective to her practice from her time as in-house counsel in the technology sector, focused on product development and multi-jurisdictional compliance. Before this, Molly trained and practised at a Magic Circle firm.
