Michael D. Saliba is a partner in the New York office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher and a member of the firm's Capital Markets Practice Group. He has extensive experience advising issuers, sponsors, underwriters and investors on a range of complex domestic and cross-border capital markets and hybrid capital transactions.

Drawing on his broad transactional experience and sector-specific knowledge, Michael helps clients successfully navigate a broad range of financing transactions, including

- Acquisition and high-yield financings
- Debt exchange offers, tender offers, and consent solicitations
- Preferred equity, direct lending and other private capital transactions
- Initial public offerings and de-SPAC transactions
- Project financings
- Registered and private equity offerings
- Restructuring and special situations transactions
- Spin-off transactions

Michael also regularly counsels clients on a variety of corporate and securities law matters, as well as complex covenant and structuring analyses.
