Marcus Seete is an associate in the Brussels office of Gibson Dunn and a member of the firm's Antitrust and Competition Practice Group.

Marcus' practice encompasses all areas of European and German competition law, focusing on merger control proceedings and antitrust investigations, foreign direct investment, as well as tech regulatory matters.

His experience spans a diverse range of industries, including telecommunications, online services, pharmaceuticals, basic industries, manufacturing, and agriculture, alongside advising on the Digital Markets Act, the Digital Services Act, the regulation of Digital Identity Wallets, and EU State aid.

Admitted to the Frankfurt Bar and a registered European lawyer at the Flemish bar, Marcus passed his first State Exam at the University of Bielefeld and later completed his clerkship at the Higher Regional Court of Hamm with the Second State Exam. Prior to joining Gibson Dunn in 2023, he clerked, amongst others, at the European Commission (DG COMP) in a unit specialized in merger control proceedings.

Marcus is a member of the German association of antitrust professionals (Studienvereinigung Kartellrecht), the Competition Litigation Forum (C-L-F), as well as the German Forum for Investment Screening (Forum Investitionsprüfung).

Marcus is a native German speaker, speaks fluent English and has a good command of French.
