Dallas

Julia Tabat is an associate in the Dallas office of Gibson, Dunn, & Crutcher. She practices in the firm's Litigation and Intellectual Property practice groups, and focuses on patent and appellate litigation.

Julia has represented clients in patent litigation matters before U.S. district courts, the International Trade Commission, and the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit. She has experience across a variety of industries, including medical devices, telecommunications, pharmaceuticals, and automotives. Julia has conducted witness examinations, argued jury instructions, and taken and defended depositions. She has also drafted case dispositive motions and appellate briefs, coordinated discovery, and worked with fact and expert witnesses.

Julia received her B.S. from the University of Wisconsin-Madison in 2017, and earned her J.D. with high honors from the University of Chicago Law School in 2020. Following law school, Julia clerked for the Honorable Richard G. Taranto on the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, and then practiced at a law firm in Chicago.

Julia is admitted to practice law in the State of Texas, the State of Illinois, and before the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Federal Circuit, the U.S. District Court for the Northern District of Illinois, the U.S. District Court for the Western District of Michigan, and the U.S. District Court for the Eastern District of Texas.
