Helgi Walker is a partner in Gibson Dunn's Washington, D.C. office. She is Co-Chair of the firm's global Litigation Practice Group and recently served as a member of the firm's Executive Committee. She is also Co-Chair of the Administrative Law and Regulatory Practice Group and a member of the Appellate and Constitutional Law Practice Group. Chambers USA describes her as "dynamite in the courtroom and a forceful oral advocate," "a brilliant legal mind," and counsel with "excellent judgment" and "a reputation for excellence."

Helgi's work focuses on appellate, regulatory, and complex litigation matters. She has extensive experience in appellate challenges to agency rulemakings and in other high-stakes commercial litigation.

Helgi was elected as a Fellow of the American Academy of Appellate Lawyers, limited to 500 lawyers nationwide. She also is a member of the U.S. Chamber of Commerce's Administrative Law & Government Litigation Advisory Committee. By appointment of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the D.C. Circuit, Helgi served as the Chair of the Court's Advisory Committee on Procedures from 2017-2024. From 2010 to 2015, she was a Public Member of the Council of the Administrative Conference of the United States, composed of leading authorities on administrative law.

Helgi worked in the White House Counsel's Office as Associate Counsel to President George W. Bush from 2001 to 2003.

Helgi clerked for U.S. Supreme Court Justice Clarence Thomas from 1995 to 1996 and Judge J. Harvie Wilkinson III of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Fourth Circuit from 1994 to 1995.

Helgi is listed as a leading lawyer in Appellate Law Telecom, Broadcast & Satellite and Commercial Litigation by Chambers USA. In its 2020 competition, The American Lawyer named Gibson Dunn the Litigation Department of the Year and a finalist in the White Collar/Regulatory category that includes her practice areas. In 2011, The American Lawyer selected her as one of the "45 Under 45," "best of the best among young women lawyers" in the United States. The National Law Journal named her one of "Washington's Most Influential Women Lawyers" in 2011. Washingtonian magazine has repeatedly recognized her as one of D.C.'s "Top Lawyers" in its biennial rankings, including in the Supreme Court (2022) and Communications (2024) categories, and among "The Power 100" of "influential players running Washington and the world" (2014-2015).

In addition, she was:

- Named by Law360 as a Telecommunications MVP (2026), as among an elite group of lawyers who "stand out from their peers by notching significant achievements in high-stakes litigation, complex global matters and record-setting
