Stephen Weissman, former Deputy Director for the Federal Trade Commission's Bureau of Competition, is a Washington, D.C.-based partner and one of the cornerstones of the firm's Antitrust and Competition Practice Group. He is a member of the firm's Executive Committee. A former top antitrust enforcer and accomplished defense lawyer, Steve brings exceptional experience and a practical approach to representing companies in antitrust investigations by the FTC and U.S. Department of Justice and high-stakes antitrust litigations. Chambers USA describes him as "a fantastic lawyer" and a "tour de force." Who's Who Legal – Competition (2022) identifies him as a "super star in the market who works on some of the most challenging" matters. In 2024, MergerLinks named Steve one of the "Top 10 Antitrust Lawyers in North America."

While serving as FTC Deputy Director from 2013-2015, Steve was involved in and supervised all of the agency's merger and non-merger investigations and litigations, spanning a wide range of industries, including pharmaceuticals and other healthcare segments, digital and high-tech markets, consumer products, energy, and chemicals. Steve served as lead trial counsel in the FTC's successful challenge to the $3.5 Billion acquisition by Sysco Corp. of U.S. Foods, Inc.

Before joining Gibson Dunn, Steve co-chaired the Antitrust and Competition practice at another global law firm, where he served as one of the lead lawyers in a number of headline and high-stakes antitrust cases. In 2016, National Law Journal named Steve an "Antitrust Trailblazer" and Global Competition Review named him as a finalist for both its "Lawyer of the Year" and "Litigator of the Year" awards.

He has tried a number of cases including both bench and jury trials, argued appeals in multiple U.S. Courts of Appeal, and litigated claims under the Sherman Act, Clayton Act, and Robinson-Patman Act, as well as breach of contract and business tort claims.

Steve is a nationally acclaimed top-tier antitrust practitioner, consistently ranked by top legal publications. His recognitions include Chambers USA (2016-2025), Legal 500 (2013, 2015-2024), and Best Lawyers in America for Litigation–Antitrust since 2020. He has also earned recognition from Who's Who Legal in Competition (2022-2024), Litigation (2017-2024), and Commercial Litigation (2023), as well as Super Lawyers (2018-2024). Steve has been featured in the Guide to the World's Leading Competition and Antitrust Lawyers (2012, 2013, 2018-2023), and named to Lawdragon's "500 Leading Litigators in America" (2023-2026) and "500 Leading Antitrust and Competition Lawyers" for 2025.
