Morgan Wendlandt is an associate in the Denver office of Gibson Dunn. She currently practices with the firm's Litigation Department.

Morgan earned her law degree in 2025 from Stanford Law School, where she served as an Associate Editor of the Stanford Journal of Law, Business & Finance and participated in the Stanford Criminal Defense Clinic. She spent both of her law school summers with Gibson Dunn before joining the firm as an associate.

Morgan graduated summa cum laude from Indiana State University in 2012, where she earned a Bachelor of Science in Marketing with a minor in Creative Writing. As an undergraduate, she was a Division I soccer player and was named her university's Presidential Scholar Athlete of the Year and a nominee for the NCAA Woman of the Year award.

Before attending law school, Morgan spent nearly a decade in financial services, including as Chief Compliance Officer and Chief Marketing Officer of a registered investment adviser, where she developed and administered firm-wide regulatory compliance programs.

Morgan is a member of the State Bar of Colorado.
