Cody Wilson is an associate in the Dallas office of Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher. He advises public and private companies on mergers and acquisitions, joint ventures, growth and venture investments, minority investments, leveraged acquisitions, exits, complex strategic and commercial agreements, operating agreements and with respect to general corporate matters. His experience spans a wide range of industries, including consumer and retail, business services, financial services, healthcare, industrials and technology, with transactions ranging in size from several hundred thousand to billions of dollars.

In 2025, Cody was recognized by his peers as a "Rising Star" in mergers and acquisitions by Super Lawyers. He also serves as an adjunct professor at the Southern Methodist University Dedman School of Law, where he co-teaches a course concerning private equity investments and exits. He maintains an active pro bono practice, and, from 2023 to 2025, he served on the firm's global Associate Committee.

Cody graduated summa cum laude from the Southern Methodist University Dedman School of Law in 2020, where he was a member of Order of the Coif, a Hatton W. Sumners Scholar, an editor of the SMU Law Review, a teaching assistant for Professor Gregory Crespi and a research assistant for Professor Christopher Hanna.

Before law school, Cody gained extensive sales and sales management experience in the automotive industry and earned an undergraduate degree in Industrial Engineering, with distinction, from the University of Oklahoma, where he was awarded departmental honors in recognition of his distinguished academic record.

Cody is admitted to the State Bar of Texas.
