Brandon Wolf is an associate in Gibson, Dunn & Crutcher's Washington, D.C. office. Brandon practices in the firm's Litigation Department, and his practice spans complex commercial, regulatory, and appellate litigation.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Brandon served as a law clerk to the Honorable Sandra S. Ikuta of the U.S. Court of Appeals for the Ninth Circuit and to the Honorable Stanley Blumenfeld Jr. of the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California. Before his clerkships, Brandon practiced in the Los Angeles office of a major law firm, where he focused on commercial and securities litigation.

Brandon received his J.D. from the UCLA School of Law, where he was elected to the Order of the Coif and received a Dean's Merit Scholarship. He received his Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science, cum laude, from the University of Southern California.

Brandon is admitted to practice law in the District of Columbia. He is also admitted to the U.S. Courts of Appeals for the Fifth, Ninth, and Eleventh Circuits, and the U.S. District Court for the Central District of California.
