Nadia Yusuf is an associate in the New York office of Gibson Dunn, where she is a member of the firm's Investment Funds Practice Group.

Nadia advises sponsors, asset managers and other clients on the formation, structuring and operation of private investment funds and related investment vehicles. Her practice includes representing clients in connection with a broad range of fund formation and asset management matters across alternative asset classes.

Prior to joining Gibson Dunn, Nadia was an associate at other international law firms, where she represented sponsors and investment managers in connection with the formation and operation of private funds and related transactional matters.

Nadia earned her Juris Doctor from Columbia Law School as a Harlan Fiske Stone Scholar, her Master of Management Studies from Duke University's Fuqua School of Business as a Merit Scholar, and her Bachelor of Arts, cum laude, from Cornell University.

Nadia is admitted to practice in the State of New York.
